DISBAND HOME GUARDS

Companies A and B of This City Dissolved Last Night—Company C to be Enlarged by New Members.

In view of the position taken by the federal and state authorities concerning home guard companies organized for the local protection of cities and towns, it was deemed best for Alexandria that two of the home guard companies organized here the past summer be disbanded in order that there might be one well drilled and equipped company for the better protection of the city and its people, in case of need.

As a result, therefore, a meeting of the three companies was held at the armory last night at which time the necessary action was taken. On motion duly carried, companies A and B were disbanded and the resignation of Albert Bryan, as major of the battallion was also accepted.

Company C, which is in command of Dr. Thomas B. Cochran, as captain, will remain as an organization, and every effort will be put forth to make it as strong and efficient as possible. Captain Cochran last night gave an earnest invitation to the men from the Companies A and B to join his company. He said they wanted men who would attend the drills promptly, every Monday night, emphasizing that fact, which was entirely correct. An efficient company of men for military service can only be obtained through regular and careful drilling.

Remarks were made by Adjutant R. M. Green, Captains Monroe, Cochran and others in order to clear the air of any misapprehensions which might have sprung up concerning the disbanding of the companies, and it is expected that Company C will be largely increased in numbers in the near future as a result of the action taken last night.

It is hoped that the proper equipment of guns may be secured for Company C in order that it may be in a position to render such protection to Alexandria and its residents as circumstances may demand, especially during the absence of the Alexandria Light Infantry, which leaves the city entirely without military protection. While it is to be sincerely hoped that nothing will be necessary along that line, there is no telling what the future may bring forth. Riots have occurred heretofore when entirely unlooked for, and it will be well to be prepared for similar emergencies in the months to come. In other words, let us provide for "safety first," remembering that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

ANOTHER CHARGE.

Bernstorff Said to Have Urged the Appointment of Cohalan as Bishop of Cork.

New York, Oct. 4.—How Ambassador Bernstorff urged the choice of Daniel Cohalan, cousin to New York Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan, as bishop of Cork in a letter to the German foreign office dated August 23, 1916, was related in a London dispatch printed today in the New York Evening World.

Daniel Cohalan was ultimately made bishop of Cork. His cousin, the judtice, was named in the recent State Department's exose of the Von Igel papers as having played a prominent part in negotiations with Germany with regard to aiding the Irish revolt.

"This revelation of German activity at the Vatican to influence, in its supposed interest, the election of an Irish bishop has naturally caused considerable of a sensation here," the London Dispatches states.

"The Girl Who Couldn't Grow up."

Margarita Fischer will be seen at the Richmond tonight. She returns to the screen after an illness in a lively five-reel comdey drama—"The Girl Who Couldn't Grow Up." She is the same beautiful, vivacious Margarita of old—the star of "The Pearl of Paradise," "Miss Jackie of the Navy," and half a dozen other motion picture successes. This is a picture with a universal appeal. It'll tickle the old folks and the youngsters. It possesses all the elements of a successful entertainment, plus the personality of an attractive actress.

FORM ONE REGIMENT

First, Second and Fourth Virginia Made Single Unit at Camp McClellan.

As was stated in yesterday's Gazette, Virginia's three infantry National Guard organizations, known as the First, Second and Fourth Regiments, the former including the Alexandria Light Infantry, have been swallowed up in the War Department's army reorganization plans, and as State units they have ceased to exist.

The First, Second and Fourth Regiments have been merged into the One Hundred and Sixteenth Infantry of the Fifty-eighth Brigade, Blue and Gray Division, otherwise known as the Twenty-ninth Division.

Colonel Robert F. Leedy, Luray, commander of the Second Virginia Regiment, and Lieutenant-Colonel Samuel R. Miller, of Front Royal, also of the second, will command the enlarged regiment. These two officers are the seniors of their rank in the Virginia Brigade.

Other officers designated for duty with the new regiment are as follows: Major—John F. Bright, of the Richmond Grays, First Regiment; George O. Leach, of the Second Regiment; Stanley W. Martin, of the First Regiment. Captains—William A. Stack, of Richmond; A. D. Burnham, Lynchburg; G. M. Alexander, Lynchburg; S. G. Waller, Front Royal; L. G. Figgat, Roanoke; W. B. Davis, Petersburg; R. Y. Conrad, Winchester; Gunyan M. Harrison, Fredericksburg; J. W. Wright, East Radford. Samuel R. Millar, jr, Front Royal; C. R. Kindervater, Roanoke; J. E. Ast, Staunton; Roland Thorp, Norfolk; Howard M. Raines, Danville; Hierome L. Opie, Staunton, and James L. Mitchell, Norfolk.

In addition to these officers, forty first lieutenants and thirty second lieutenants will be assigned to the One Hundred and Sixteenth Regiment.

No mention is made of what will become of those officers who have not been designated for duty with the expanded regiment. Colonel William J. Perry, of Staunton, and Lieutenant Colonel Robert E. Craighill, of Lynchburg, commanded the First Virginia Regiment, and Colonel Edward E. Goodwyn, of Emporia, commanded the Fourth Virginia Regiment. It is interesting to note that Colonel Millar and Captain Millar, who will serve in the new regiment, are father and son.

The expanded regiment is composed of most of the enlisted men of the Second and First Regiments, with a few who were in the Fourth Regiment. Enlisted men who were not assigned to the One Hundred and Sixteenth Regiment will be transferred to the depot brigade and other units at Camp McClellan.

The organization of the One Hundred and Sixteenth Infantry completes the brigade under Brigadier-General Charles D. Gaither, the One Hundred and Fifteenth Regiment having been organized several days ago, with Colonel Charles M. Little, of the First Maryland Regiment, and Lieutenant-Colonel Milton A. Record, of the Fifth Maryland Regiment, in command. Colonel Washington Bowie who commanded the Fifth Maryland Regiment, was relieved of duty to take command of the One Hundred and Twelfth Artillery.

General Gaither's brigade will include a machine gun battalion commanded by Major D. J. Markey, of the First Maryland Regiment.

News that the Virginia units had gone out of existence will be received with sincere regret. However, it appears that it is the intention to keep most of the men from this State together, but it will be impossible to avoid assigning certain of the soldiers to units in which they will be among strangers.

"Until the bloody work is done and victory is ours," says Field Marshal von Hindenburg, replying to birthday congratulations, "let us gnash our teeth and not say a word about peace." German officials close to the throne having been advised of this remark of the imperious field marshal have given it broadcast publicity among the people of the central powers, where it has received enthusiastic acclaim.

PRINCE AGAINST KAISER.

Leopold's Protest Against the Restraint Placed Upon Him Heard in Secret Court

London, Oct. 4.—The action brought by Prince Friedrich Leopold of Prussia against Emperor William and Count von Eulenburg, Prussian Minister of the Household, as a protest against the restraint placed upon the Prince, came before a secret court at Potsdam yesterday. All efforts made to force the Prince to renounce the action proved abortive. The decision of the court will not be published.

Washington, Oct. 4.—According to an announcement made in the Official Gazette at Berlin on August 10, Prince Friedrich Leopold, of Prussia, who is 22 years old, was charged by Count von Eulenburg with extravagance and placed under the guardianship of Captain von Heyden, the Prince's military escort. Prince Friedrich Leopold received the usual military training, but owing to a defective heart failed to qualify for active service. One of his brothers was killed several months ago while making a flight over the western battle front.

COTTON GAINS $12 A BALE.

Prospective Short Crop Sends New York Market up.

New York, Oct. 4.—The country's prospective short cotton crop, as indicated by the Government's estimate, caused a further sensational rise in prices in the cotton market here yesterday morning. The December contract advanced $6 a bale, making a total of $12 a bale since the estimate was issued in Washington yesterday. The increase brought cotton to within one cent a pound of the highest price thus far this year.

A broadeing general demand noted in the market this morning was attributed largely to foreign and domestic trade interests.

WOMEN TO RUN CARS.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 4.—Women will be used to take the places of the motormen and conductors of the Johnstown Traction Company.

Practically all of the active men have enlisted in the service, have been drafted or they are employed in the mills making war supplies, receiving large wages. The street car company has been forced to advertise for women to supplant the men, but difficulty is being encountered securing the female help.

SEES SUITOR END LIFE.

Rejected Man Shoots Himself After Parley on Dam Wall.

Norristown, Pa., Oct. 4.—Crazy over a show girl, George Deitzel, of New York city, committed suicide near the dam breast, at the foot of Swede street, yesterday. He apparently had intended to kill Charlotte Miney, according to a letter in his pockets, addressed to the police, and dated October 2. Though the woman was in his company, Deitzel made no effort to molest her.

Mrs. Miney fell in a faint, and it was thought at first that she, too, had been shot. When she regained consciousness at the hospital she told the police that Deitzel had been following her and pressing his suit for her hand in marriage since the death of her husband, last July.

She said that she met him yesterday morning on the street, and she agreed to take a walk with him. They sat on the wall at the dam for a half hour. He wanted her to marry him right off, she said; but she refused. He then walked away a few feet and pulled a revolver and pointed it at his heart. Mrs. Miney said she tried to get the weapon, but before she reached him it was discharged and he fell.

SEE WAR PLOT IN FIRE.

Second Chemical Plant Burned by Flames Starting Near Pumps.

Kane, Pa., Oct. 4.—Fire damage estimated at $100,000 to the plant of the Keeler Chemical Company, Ltd., at Wetmore, yesterday morning, strengthens suspicious of existence of a plot of alien enemies to cripple the chemical industry in the section, which supplies ingredients for explosives manufactured for the Government.

The fire at the McKean chemical plant, at Dahoga, a month ago, occurred under circumstances that aroused suspicion. As was the case at Dahoga, the Wetmore, fire broke out close to the pumps of the fire-fighting system, so that firemen were hampered by lack of water.

FEWER VESSELS SUNK

Total of all Losses Declared Only About Two-Thirds of Germany's Claim.

London, Oct. 4.—Eleven British merchantmen of more than 1,600 tons each and two vessels under 1,600 tons were sunk by mines or submarines last week, according to the British Admiralty statement.

The total of all losses to world's shipping since Germany's ruthless U-boat war went into effect aggregate about two-thirds of those claimed by the Germans in a statement issued September 1. At that time the Germans alleged that an average of 900,000 tons had been sunk monthly for seven months.

The actual totals of tonnage sunk compiled here show that not even during the most successful month for the U-boats—April—have the figures reached any such proportion, while the August losses dropped to almost half the April figure.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The foregoing statement of the British Admiralty again lowers the aggregate of British merchantmen sunk by mines or submarines during any week since Germany began her intensified submarine campaign. As against 15 vessels sunk the previous week, which was the low record since February, only 13 merchantmen are shown to have been sent to the bottom last week.

DESTROYES IN COLLISION

British and American Warships Come Together in Storm.

Washington, Oct. 4.—An American destroyer in British waters recently was in collision with a British naval vessel which, after taking off the American crew, towed the disabled destroyer safely to port. In announcing the collision the Navy Department said no one was injured aboard the American destroyer and that the vessel since had been repaired and restored to active duty.

An official inquiry developed that the collision was unavoidable, the vessels having come together during a heavy rainstorm. No blame was placed on either the American or the British vessel.

The Potomac Fish Company will have on sale tomorrow and Saturday, fresh trout, large butter fish, silver perch, oysters by the pint and quart, also fried oysters. C. H. ZIMMERMAN. 238-1t

DRASTIC STEPS TAKEN

Federal Authorities Working Assiduously to Enforce "Bone Dry" Law In Virginia.

Drastic steps are being taken by the Federal authorities to break up the liquor traffic between Washington and Virginia since the "bone-dry" law became effective. For several weeks operatives have been working extensively in Washington and Alexandria, and recently secret service men have been boarding trains in Washington and riding into Virginia. At times they continue only as far as Alexandria, and at others to Fredericksburg and other points. For the past week they have been operating between Richmond and Washington.

First trials of persons accused of violating the Reed bone-dry amendment took place Tuesday in the United States District Court for Eastern Virginia now in session in Richmond, when Judge Edmund Waddill, jr., fined two men $250 each and a third $25. All were accused of transporting liquor from wet territory into Virginia, which is dry, contrary to the Federal law which became operative last July.

The traffic is said to be unusually heavy because of the prosperity of the farmers in Virginia and North Carolina. In many instances the operatives have found that the men found with liquor in their possession had never been away from home for more than twenty-five miles in their lives. With the bumper crops and plenty of money they planned short trips to Washington and Baltimore, and filled their baggage before returning.

Some question has been raised as to the power of the officers in "raiding" the trains without specific search warrants because of the fact that the railroads are bound by the contract tacitly understood with the sale of every ticket to protect their patrons and their baggage.

Moreover, explicit instructions have been issued by the railroads to their employees that search can only be allowed when the duly authorized authorities, whether they be Federal police, State officers or special agents in the employ of the Commissioner of Prohibition, produce search warrants, giving specific descriptions of the persons who are suspected of transporting liquor or the check numbers of the receptacles in which the liquor is supposed to be transported.

It is impossible for the railroad authorities to police their trains, under the present war-time conditions, to see that these instructions are carried out.

"We have a sacred duty to our patrons to protect them in every way possible," said Warren P. Taylor, general traffic manager of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac. "Our president has issued orders, which have been transmitted to our employees, that search of passengers shall only be allowed when a proper search warrant is produced.

Commissioner Peters said: "We are hampered by the smallness of our appropriation for running down the violators.

"At no time have my men, or the city police, ever searched a piece of luggage without a search warrant.

"Last week, I had an agent search trains at Alexandria. We have a pretty good idea of the people who are transporting liquor"—the commissioner says his powers allow him to keep special agents outside of the State as well as in—" and I am sure that in the general run, no one has been subjected to any indignities. Of course, it is possible for mistakes to occur, but very few have been reported to me.

"I have 516 agents and many 'volunteers.' They are doing wonderful work, and it is a mistake to say that the police or my special agents—who are never allowed to appear in court, if it is possible to prove our case without them—have ever broken into any trunk or other piece of baggage.

Unless the situation grows more serious than it is now, the government is not going to inflict the death penalty on drafted men who try to escape service. These men, when apprehended, face the technical charge of desertion and courts martial have the power of inflicting the supreme penalty for desertion in time of war.

BRITISH IN BIG DRIVE

Attack East of Ypres on Wide Front With Satisfactory Progress.

London, Oct. 4.—British troops successfully started early today another "big push" in Flanders.

East of Ypres they attacked at 6 o'clock this morning on a wide front and with satisfactory progress. A number have already been made prisoners.

British guns have been pouring a concentrated fire of the greatest intensity the war has yet recorded on German positions in the Ypres sector.

The bombardment has been interspersed with desperate German assaults. The enemy high command realized that the tremendous gun fire presaged another British drive, and has sought in every manner to mass troops and guns to prevent it.

Nearly a week ago correspondents at the British front have hint of what was preparing. Then a day or so later they aroused Londons expectancy to the highest pitch by mysteriously announcing nothing would be reported from the British front for twenty-four hours. It was during this time that Haig completed all plans for the drive.

Presumably Haig struck again today at the Passchendaele ridge line—the strong strategic center of the German front in Flanders. It is the key to the German lines from there to the coast, the dominating geographical citadel defending the Roulers railway and certain main arteries of communications with the German bases at Zeebrugge and Ostend.

GIFT TO HINDENBURG

Marble Bust of the "All Highest War Lord"—"The Hero of the German People."

Amsterdam, Oct. 4.—The celebration of the birthday of Field Marshal von Hindenburg at German main headquarters began with a visit from Emperor William, who presented the Field Marshal with a marble bust of the "all highest war lord." The route from Hindenburg's house to main headquarters was lined with children, who strewed flowers in his path, while airmen dropped flowers and laurel wreaths.

Hindenburg later reviewed veteran units and other soldiers in front of the headquarters, and in speaking to them said:

"It is a special pleasure to me to know myself at one with the German people in their will to victory and their confidence in victory."

In a speech the Emperor praised the Field Marshal as "the hero of the German people, to whom it is granted to accomplish deeds of world and historical greatness." The Emperor then thanked Field Marshal von Hindenburg in the name of the army and the people, and continued:

"Future centuries will weave legends around the beloved and honored personality of the Field Marshal. May God preserve him for further deeds until the victorious end of the war, out of which a strong, healthy and respected Germany will arise."

The Bishop of Treves conducted special field services. Probably the most conspicuous part of the improvised shrine was a red silken altar cloth, one of many gifts to von Hindenburg. It is ornamented with an iron cross, from which myriads of rays radiate. Beneath the cross are embroidered these words of the Prophet Isaiah:

"They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary, and they shall walk and not faint."

Slackers Banned

New Haven, Ct., Oct. 4.—Unless a man, physically fit, has identified himself with some branch of military service he need not expect to play football at Yale this year, according to an announcement made by T. A. D. Jones, football coach. The announcement says:

"No man who is physically fit and is not a member of the reserve officers training corps or some branch of the military service will be permitted to report for football."

Large Jersey trout, medium trout, rock fish, butter fish and pollock, will be on sale the balance of the week. Geo. E. Price and Co. 238-1t.

REALIZE FRIGHTFULNESS.

As was suggested in this column yesterday, Germany is being repaid in her own coin. Paul made an observation in his day to the effect that whatever we sow we eventually reap, and in his day there was a saying among the Romans that what we do to others, others will do unto us.

The bombardment of German cities by aviators of the allies is bringing these truths home to the Huns, who started out on a war of frightfulness.

As the Richmond Virginian in this connection says, the allies have at last, and reluctantly, taken a leaf from the book of Teutonic "Schrecklichkeit." Three days in succession French fliers have bombed interior towns of Germany.

Behind the firing lines, Germany has known little of frightfulness as practiced by Von Tirpitz and his colleagues. The allies could not bring themselves to attack undefended towns. Every consideration of humanity, every tradition of chivalrous conduct forbade the destruction of the lives of non-combatants. The Teutons persisted in a course which they described to their own people as being wonderfully successful in carrying terror to the hearts of the hated English.

Now, the birds of evil omen have begun to return to the home roost. Terror is to be spread throughout the German territory within the flying range of the allied airmen, if tons of high explosives will have that effect. It is quite possible that a device which German minds had conceived wherewith to frighten the English may, in fact, have precisely that effect upon the German people themselves, who, with all the hardships that the war has imposed, have lived in fancied security from anything the allies could do. We shall see very soon what the policy of terror evolved by the German high command may have when turned upon the population of their own country, already besieged by hunger and facing a winter of unprecedented fuel shortage.

THE CASE OF HOLLAND.

There are 84 Dutch steamers in our ports, most of them loaded with food, which can't get away because the Exports Administrative Board won't let them take on bunker coal. The Dutch Government is trying to get their release, and to that end is explaining to our Government that Holland needs German coal and can't get it without selling food and other supplies to Germany, and that, anyway the German trade is very necessary for the business interests of Holland. Will we not please let her vessels go?

We will not and, in the words of a contemporary, we are not trying to punish Holland, but we are trying to defeat Germany. We have a law against trading with the enemy, and if Holland goes on trading with Germany we should be virtually trading with Germany if we traded with Holland. The Dutch complain that if they do not sell food to Germany they cannot get German coal. Well, let them face the other alternative; if they do sell food to Germany they can't get any food from America. It's as broad as it is long.

Holland has been pursuing a cowardly course from the beginning. It is vitally interested in the defeat of Germany. Its independence would be worth nothing if Germany should win.

When peace comes what will be the status of Holland? If Germany were the conquerer Holland would receive no consideration. As Count von Falkenhayn said: "If we win, we've got the neutrals. If we lose, we lose."

But the allies will determine the condition of peace, and what claim has Holland upon them? Not one particle. It has fed the German armies and helped Germany to prolong the war after it lost its last prospect of winning.

LA FOLLETTE'S MAD SISTER

It is suggestedly a contemporary that, if woman suffrage ever becomes incorporated in the Constitution of the United States, Mrs. Havemeyer and every other woman who opposes this Liberty Loan, or any other measure of national defense, because they have not been allowed to vote should be specifically expected from the right to participate in our political affairs. There are thousands of American men who have gone abroad and expatriated themselves in order to fight for the women and children of France and Belgium. But in Mrs. Havemeyer and her strange following we have women who have expatriated themselves by fighting against their own land and against humanity in general. They have put themselves beyond the pale of Americanism, and they should remain, so far as political privileges are concerned. women with out a country.

They stand alone among all the women of the earth. Even the British terrorists, when war came, put loyalty to England above the demand for sex equality. Their nobler nature reasserted itself, and they scorned to be numbered among the Huns. The harm our vain and shallow victims of egotism have done to their country will count for little, though their course is no less a crime against patriotism because of their impotency. But the moral wrong they have done to their own sex, in the eyes of the thoughtless, is great, and the noble army of womanhood, misrepresented and libeled by their words and action, should make them feel the weight of feminine indignation and contempt.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR

Since the middle of last week the German armies in Flanders daily have been trying to wrest from the British the territory taken from them in the recent big offensive of Field Marshal Haig.

As on previous days, Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria on Wednesday unleashed large numbers of his troops in an attempt to recapture terrain on the Ypres sector, where the British are seriously threatening his communication line with Ostend and the submarine base at Zeebrugge. Ever watchful, the gunners of Haig again wrought havoc among the attacking waves, and dispersed the Germans with heavy casualties and retained all their positions intact.

While British and French airmen continue their bombing operations against Germany's submarine base at Zeebrugge and points of military importance behind the lines, the French aviators are keeping up their attack on German towns and cities in reprisal for the shelling by German aircraft of the open towns of Bar-le-Duc. More than 15,000 pounds of explosives are reported to have been dropped on numerous German settlements, among them the famous town of Baden, famed as a health resort.

Likewise, the Italians are giving the Austrians little respite from aerial incursions, again having dropped four tons of projectiles on military objectives at Pola, the great Austrian naval base on the Adriatic, and bombed other points of military advantage.

WAR WITH I. W. W

Astute counsel may seek to have it appear that the 5,000 counts in the indictments drawn against the large number of members of the Industrial Workers of the World are baseless, but as the Baltimore American says, the activities of this organization have not been in a corner. Their avowed and fundamental position is that of arson and murder and destruction of all material values. Their own books state this to be the case and the instructions sent out from headquarters are of this nature.

It will be futile to attempt to squirm out of the hands of the law upon the ground that the organization was not seeking to frustrate the United States in the war and is not incited by German interests and money. The war has been seized upon by the organization as the fertile ground for the spread of its doctrines and for the propagation of acts of industrial outlawry, the United States being regarded as a fit subject for predatory action at this time.

Without any moral compunctions, without any patriotic motives, without any sense of social obligation except to themselves, the Industrial Workers of the World are an organized gang of outlaws.

INNOCENTS PERISHING.

Present conditions in New York, caused by the rise in the price of milk and the consequent deaths of hundreds of infants who cannot be supplied with this necessityy, brings to mind history of the past in that city. In the latter part of the fifties infantile mortality reached such a stage that inquiries were started to ascertain the cause. There was an abundance of milk in those days, but it was of a nature which brought on cholera infantum and soon snuffed out the lives of the little ones.

It was shown that the death rate among infants was caused by the use of milk from cows which fed upon swill from distilleries. It was also shown that cows were often milked while dying, the bovine being held upon straps under its body.

This expose was a revelation to people in New York and the war against swill milk spread over the city, resulting in the elimination of the dangerous conditions.

All milk is becoming an expensive luxury in New York—that is its advancing price is gradually placing it beyond the reach of thousands—and little ones dependent upon it for nourishment are pining away—starving to death.

A dispatch from that city says the recent increase in price of milk has caused the death of 400 children.

The district attorney's office which has been investigating the milk situation, announced it would present evidence to the grand jury. In this connection Mr. Swann declared that "the Dairymen's League has New York by the throat," and cited a case where it was alleged, one milk dealer was forced out of business because he refused to sign a contract dictated by the league.

WILL FIGHT TO A FINISH.

Many people believe they see the silver lining to the dark cloud of war and that by the end of the year peace may, at least, be in sight. These visions of the return of normal conditions may be realized, but from present indications the belligerents are desperate and declare war to the knife. It may, however, according to an old adage, be the darkest hour before the break of day.

The bombardment by allied aviators of German cities is rousing Teutonic indignation and, naturally, resentment. Hindenburg seems to be red-hot. He is quoted as saying "Let us gnash our teeth, and not say a word about peace. We will fight on until the bloody work is done and victory is ours."

Lloyd George seems equally determined. He says "We will pay the Germans back with compound interest."

And so the "good work" will go on.

FILLING CANTONMENTS.

(Baltimore American)

With 40 per cent. more men moving toward the cantonments these places of centering of the selected men will soon be taxed to capacity. Some of the mare already so, due to tardiness in completing the structures. The selective draft has proven a huge success, the number of men rejected because of physical defects being few and the number failing to report being likewise few, almost all the latter being found supplied with excuses that relieved them of any serious penalties for delay.

America's manhood is found ready to present itself on the firing line as it has proven prepared to go into training. The working over of this raw material into disciplined, sinewy and competent soldiers, ready for any kind of physical exertion, and trained in the arts of modern methods of warfare is proceeding with dispatch. There is no other business in the country, despite the greatly stimulated state of industry, that compares in method and action with the business of making soldiers out of the men in the selective draft.

This is the principal business of the nation and it is being conducted in the light of the experience of England and France, with instructors from those army fronts of Europe. American will soon have its full army of men for the fields of Europe.

NORTH CAROLINIAN'S CHARGE

Had Been Arrested in Richmond for Violating Prohibition Law.

The Richmond Journal prints the following:

Charges of such a grave nature that they may lead the secret service men to the doors of the United States Senate in their investigation of liquor shipments into and through this States have been made to agents of the Department of Justice in Richmond by B. F. Braddy, of Washington, North Carolina, following his arrest at Elba Station with a large quantity of liquor in his possesson, while he was en route to the Old North State.

Braddy told the officers of men "higher up" who, he said, were interested in the shipment of liquor into dry territory. He alleged that he was commissioned to bring the liquor n his possession to North Carolina by J. J. Tayloe, of Washington, North Carolina, who ,he further alleges told him that he could give him immunity from arrests by the Federal authorities.

Braddy also charged that Tayloe told him he was formerlyy connected with the Senate finance committee under Senator Simmons and intimated that he wielded sufficient influence in Washington to keep Braddy from being molested by the secret service men.

When the Department of Justice agents refused to release him on these statements he evinced great surprises saying that Tayloe had assured him that he would not be disturbed.

He also alleges that before he left North Carolina for Washington, Tayloe gave him a note to a Washington saloon keeper instructing the latter to let him have the liquor and charge it to Tayloe. The saloon keeper accordingly gave him the liquor.

SCENE AT OCCOQUAN.

White and Colored Women Engage in Mix-up Yesterday Morning.

Mrs. Margaret B. John, who has been ill in the hospital at Occoquan for four or five days, was called into the office of the matron yesterday and informed that she was to be removed, but, it is said, the officials refused to tell her where they were going to take her, and she refused to go calling upon the other suffragists, Mrs. F. W. Kendall, Miss M. Malone Miss O'Hara and Miss Lucy Burns, to protect her, and they immediately surrounded her. Mrs. John was, however, forced into an automobile while she screamed at the top of her voice. Great excitement followed and the scene was made more thrilling when about sixty colored women entered the room and a free for all fight started for the possession of the telephone which Mrs. John's sympathizers were endeavoring to use.

When the suffragettes emerged at the end of that time with hair disheveled, and clothes partially torn from their bodies, it was found that nearly all of them were suffering from bruises and scratches. Trembling and shaking from the excitement, they were sent back to the workhouse.

Miss Margaret Fotheringham, one of the suffragettes, says that during the whole time the fight was going on, four husky colored women were sitting on her.

About an hour after the fight, Miss Crocker states, Miss Burns was given permission to phone to Washington and the suffragettes were informed that Mrs. John had been removed to the jail hospital at Washington.

Directors of the First National Bank of Richmond, voted unanimously yesterday afternoon to subscribe $1,000,000 to the second issue of the Liberty loan 4 per cent bonds, the largest subscription yet made in Richmond to the bond issue.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Mystery attaches to a hurried trip by Prince von Buelow from Lucerne to Berlin, upon summons from the Kaiser. Returning to Lucerne, where he makes his headquarters as Germany's chief "sounder" on peace, the former chancellor conferred with two so far unidentified personages. There is much speculation as to whether the Prince is to be recalled to the chancellorship or whether a new Teutonic peace move is forthcoming.

A new wage scale for navy yard workers has been agreed upon by the Wage Adjustment Board and the presidents of twenty-five unions now in Washington. Contracts under the new scale will be signed today, when the schedules will be made public, and labor troubles in navy yards which have caused some interference with the government's building program will be settled. The new schedules grant increases of from two to twenty-five per cent over the scale adopted in January of this year. The average is about ten per cent. The new scale supercedes that recently adopted by the Wage Adjustment Board and which failed to satisfy the workers. Under the new agreement the navy yard workers are grouped by trades in the awards.

It may be said with confidence that none of the many petitions to Congress, praying—even acrimoniously demanding—the expulsion of certain pacifistic statesmen therein invidiously named, will be followed by the punitive doings desired. It is greatly to be doubted whether they will escape the waste basket of the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the Senate, which meet today to consider the uncomplimentary documents relating to Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin.

The proposal to examine for military service all men registered for the army draft and not yet called was killed for the present at least yesterday when the House and Senate conferees eliminated an appropriation for the purpose from the war deficiency bill.

Dr. P. W. McReynolis, president of Defiance College, Defiance, Ohio, died of injuries, and his wife was killed yesterday near Curryville, Ind., southeast of Fort Wayne, Ind., when their automobile was struck by a westbound passenge rtrain on the Clover Leaf Railroad.

The Chilean government has purchased all the nitrate of German companies and sold it to an American firm. By this operation it was possible to acquire from Germany nearly 30,000,000 pesos of Chilean gold deposited there as a guarantee of paper money.

News of a naval fight in the Adriatic, in which aeroplanes took part was given out in Rome yesterday. The Italian scout cruiser Aquila, while cruising off the Dalmatian coast encountered two Austro-Hungarian destroyers and gave chase to them. After signaling the Italian squadron the Aquila started toward Cattaro, the Austro-Hungarian naval base. Off Durazzo fire broke out in the Aquila's oil tanks and the Austro-Hungarians, seeing her plight signaled to land, and Austrian seaplanes rose up and dropped bombs upon the burning ship. Three Austrian cruisers put out and attacked the Aquila, but before they could seriously damage the Italian vessel the Italian squadron appeared and the Austrians fled. The fire on the Aquila was put out.

Belgian newspaper correspondents announce that General von Falkenhausen, the German governor general of Belgium, has received a request from the Vatican to permit Cardinal Mercier, the prelate of Belgium, to visit Rome some time before Christmas on an important political errand. General Falkenhausen is understood to have replied that he could only grant passports to the cardinal on the prelate undertaking not to misuse his trip for purposes of anti-German propaganda.

Intimation that Pope Benedict may be working through the people of belligerent nations as well as their rulers in his quest for peace brought a chorus of criticism in Rome yesterday from conservative newspaper organs. One suggestion was that the pontifical diplomacy was "tending toward a pink peace"—this color, it explained, being a combination of the socialist red and the papal white. Vatican authorities answered that the Pope's efforts were directed "solely to a just, Christian and enduring peace."

AWAITING THIRD QUOTA

Machinery Working Smoothly at Camp Lee for Reception of New Men for National Army.

Camp Lee, Va., Oct. 4.—No colored troops will be sent to Camp Lee in the third quota of National Army men which began arriving at the cantonment today. At least no information to the effect that they will be has been received here by General Adelbert Cronkite, commanding the camp, and no arrangements have been made for their reception. The present understanding is that only white selected men will compose the 20 per cent which are due in the camp within four days.

Officers in night and day details will be on duty at headquarters for the reception of the men, and Lieutenant Colonel Hunt, the division judge advocate, has made the necessary arrangements in Richmond and Petersburg to have officers on duty in both cities for the purpose of handling the men on their arrival. Restaurants will be kept open at the station, and the men will be fed to assure their arrival at the camp in the proper condition. When congestion at the stations prevent all of the men from eating, the mess will be kept running at the camp, and those not furnished with meals in either Richmond or Petersburg will be able to eat here.

It is expected that approximately 6,000 men will reach the camp on the third quota. Everything is ready for their arrival, and no difficulty is expected in handling them. The officers here have had so much experience in getting the men settled in their military life, that the system used is in perfect operation.

TOWN OF SLIGO BANKRUPT.

Town Hall Seized for Debt and Sheriff in Possession.

Dublin, Oct. 4.—Sligo, an important town in the west of Ireland, with about 10,000 inhabitants, is bankrupt. The town hall has been seized for a debt the sheriff's bailiffs are in possession of the municipal buildings and the local officials have been refused access to their documents and books.

A Government inspector who visited the town reports that the condition of affairs is due to "a lack of prudential businesslike management, such as has not come under notice in any other locality in the British Isles." He finds that no effort has been made to collect taxes, the defaulters on taxes including several members of the local government. Minor municipal employes, including workmen of all kinds, have been so long without wages that they have all ceased work.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Jail terms of one hour each were meted out to two slackers Tuesday by Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., in the United States District Court for Eastern Virginia now in session in Richmond. The delinquents were compelled to register also.

Viktor Hill, a Finn, of Hopewell, and Wesley Porter, colored, of Giles, saved themselves form a jail sentence yesterday in the police court of Washington when both confessed violating the Reed amendment prohibiting the importation of liquor into dry territory. They were arrested a few days ago at the Union Station. They had 63 pints of whisky; both were bound for Virginia. Their plea convinced Ralph Given, assistant United States district attorney, that they were prompted by motives of friendship and were taking the liquor to acquaintances "back home."

Aviators Johnson, American; Resnati, Ballerini and Baldioli, Italians, and La Martrie, French, thrilled and delighted members of the army aircraft board, and a number of visitors by daring flights and fancy aviation "stunts" at Newport News yesterday afternoon. For the first time since his arrival in this country, Resnati looped the loop in his great Caproni triplane, which has a capacity of twenty-four passengers. La Matrie performed the same "stunt" a dozen times and finished his marvelous exhibition by executing a spiral and dive from a great height, coming perilously near the ground only to soar again at will. The other aviators executed equally daring maneuvers.

Contracts for all State printing were awarded yesterday by Davis Bottom, Public Printer, after he had been forced to call for the third set of bids. The contracts let were at prices ranging from 10 to 50 per cent greater than last year. All printing, with one exception, went to Richmond concerns, and the contract cover all departments of the State government.

BERNSTORFF AND BOLO

Alleged Spy Succeeded in Getting at Least $600,000 to French Capital.

New York, Oct. 4.—Proof that German money was furnished this country by Count von Bernstorff to Bolo Pasha, under arrest in Paris, as a spy, will be forwarded to the French government, it was announced here last night by Merton E. Lewis, Attorney General of the state.

The Attorney General, who investigated Bolo Pasha's activities here at the request of Ambassador Jusserand, said that it was a preliminary report submitted by him to the Ambassador at Washington last week which resulted in the arrest of Bolo Pasha in Paris.

"The conclusions will be substantiated by a mass of documentary evidence," the Attorney General's statement said, "including photographic reproductions of the checks, bank records and other proofs of the disposition of the German money furnished Bolo Pasha in this country by ex-Ambassador Bernstorff."

Paris, Oct. 4.—The authorities have apparently carried out this decision to feed forcibly Bolo Pasha, who, since he was taken to prison recently on the charge of having relations with the enemy, has refused all nourishment. It was believed he was undertaking a hunger strike, but a bulletin issued yesterday respecting his condition says he has improved, that his general condition is good, and also that he had taken sufficient milk and vichy to allow the prosecuting judge to interrogate him.

DERNBURG SCORES JINGOES

Cannot Find in Wilson Note An Effort to Sow Discord.

Amsterdam, Oct. 4.—Dr. Bernard Dernburg, the former German Secretary of the Colonies, in an article published in the weekly Deutsche Politik, takes a stand against the new Fatherland party, which he treats of as a harmful ebullition of would-be patriotism.

"A stream of loyal messages have been sent to the Emperor," he remarks, "as though on a word of command (some say it was a word of command) in which President Wilson's answer to the Pope is stigmatized as an attempt to drive a wedge between the Government and the people, as an effort to sow discord and as a proclamation of war on the Hohenzollerns.

"We have vainly tried," Dr. Dernberg adds, "to find such things anywhere in President Wilson's note."

Dr. Dernberg argues further that too much political capital has been made of these messages and the acnowledgments of them which he characterizes as grist to the mills of blatant wire- pullers, but which had nothing in common with the feeling of the great majority of the plain German people, who do not shout their loyalty from the house tops.

The chief aim of the German policy, Dr. Dernburg said, is that honest Germans who honestly desire peace shall meet equally honest opponents, the sequel of which meeting will be, he predicts, that the jingoes and chauvinists of all countries will be ejected from power and a situation created making the conclusion of a just and durable peace.

WONDERFUL DEVICE

Armenian Inventor Has What He Calls a "Free Energy Generator."

Garabed T. K. Giragossian, an Armenian mechanic, who had toiled twenty-six years to perfect a new "free energy generator," has finally completed the machine, and offered it to the United States to win the war.

The inventor has demonstrated a small ten-horsepower model of his device before a representative delegation of Congressmen, who, enthusiastic over its possibilities, have urged further investigation.

Here's what the inventor claims his invention will do:

Drive a battleship any distance, without stop for fuel.

Propel an aeroplane around the world.

Give an aeroplane strength to carry thousands of pounds of munitions.

Enable an aeroplane to wear armor heavy enough to turn any anti-aircraft gun's missiles.

Send torpedoes at greater speed.

Practically double the speed of steam engines.

TEUTON PEACE REPLY.

Received Important Verbal Supplementary Declarations to Note.

Rome, Oct., 4.—Pope Benedict, in transmitting to the allies the texts of the German and Austrian replies to his peace proposal, according to the usually well informer Giurna Italia informed the entente powers:

1. That the Papal Nuncios at Munich and Vienna, at the time the Teutonic replies were transmitted, received some important supplementary declarations which were, however, verbal.

2. That these verbal declarations lead the Pontiff to believe Germany is prepared to evacuate Belgium and Northern France upon certain conditions.

3. That the Berlin government is ready to discuss these conditions through the regular diplomatic channels.

4. That the Pope awaits a reply from the allies as to whether they are disposed to enter into a discussion of the points at issue.

DOUBLE MURDER.

Jealous Belgian Slays Guilty Couple In New York.

New York, Oct. 4.—A sordid romance, which started eleven years ago in Ghent, Belgium, culminated yesterday in a double murder in the apartment of the janitress of a fashionable Bronx apartment house. Chas. Von Pouke, the confessed murderer, shot and killed the woman for whom he had deserted his wife and children, and the man who, he informed the police, had stolen her affections from him. The dead are Charlotte Shauwsliege, 40, known as Von Pouke's wife, janitress of the apartment house; Harry Eandaweghe, 53, machinist, who boarded with the slain woman.

The self-confessed murderer told the police that he and the woman who later passed as his wife, were both married and had children when they fell in love in Belgium. Deserting their families they came to America. Von Pouke introduced Eandaweghe also a Belgian, to his "wife" about two years ago. Common interest in their homeland brought the three together frequently. About six months ago, the alleged wife suggested that the other man be accepted as a boarder, which was done.

Several months later Von Pouke began to suspect he had been supplanted in his wife's affections, yesterday he gained entrance to the apartment by climbing in at the bath room window. He discovered his former friend and the woman asleep, and the double tragedy followed.

MASON ANSWERS HEFLIN

House in Tears as Apology Is Wrung From the Alabaman.

In a long speech that several times had the House on the verge of tears, Representative William Mason, member at large from Illinois, yesterday asked for and received from Representative Thomas Heflin, of Alabama retraction of allegations against him made by the Southerner.

Heflin had intimated Mason was one of the "suspicious" thirteen or fourteen members in connection with the Bernstorff $50,000 slush fund for use on Congress.

"Let them come and defend themselves," Heflin had said in reference to Mason and Representative Fred Britten, of Chicago.

Stating a question of the highest personal privilege to obtain the floor Mason asserted Heflin had made false statements. There were objections to his speaking.

The Speaker ruled Mason's remarks in order.

Mason explained two amendments to the draft law, one of which, he said, was demanded by his constituents, and the other, he declared, strengthening the measure.

"When the gentleman from Alabama," Mason asserted, "says that I am trying to prevent raising an army in defense of this country he states what he knows is not true, and what he knew was not true when he stated it in this House."

The passing of the lie started an uproar. There was a motion to expunge the remark from the record, but the House sustained Mason. When the excitement died out, however, he withdrew the charge.

"It is true that I voted against the declaration of war," Mason resumed. "It is true that I voted against conscription. And I have no apologies to make here or elsewhere for the votes."

MRS. MAYO WINS SUIT

Suit Reveals the Tangled Threads of Many Romances.

New York, Oct. 4.—Virginius St. Julian Mayo, millionaire manufacturer of New Haven, must pay $100,000 heart balm to Mrs. Wilhelminia Meyer Mayo, who for twelve years erroneously believed herself to be his legal wife.

A jury in the Supreme Court yesterday reached this verdict after only half an hours deliberation. Instructions by Justice Goff regarding the basis of the "indemnity" was disregarded by the jury.

Thus ends one phase at least of the most sensational trial of its kind aired in a New York court for years. It revolves not around the usual love's triangle but a sextangle, the three other principals being:

Mrs. Florence Weeks Mayo, of Scranton, Pa., Mayo's legal wife, to whom Mayo was married a quarter of a century ago. She obtained a divorce a year ago.

Lillian May Cook, a pretty 16-year old stenographer in Mayo's employ, who killed herself two years ago.

Lois Dudley, a beautiful young woman residing in a luxurious establishment in Brooklyn, admittedly obtained by Mayo. She was regarded by all neighbors and friends as Mayo's wife and her three children as Mayo's.

In the battle of wits in which a half score of New York's most brilliant lawyers were engaged, amazing new disclosures involving several other beautiful stenographers employed in Mayo's New Haven offices were hinted at. Former District Attorney James W. Osborne, Mayo's chief counsel, finally blocked introduction of this alleged evidence.

SQUEEZING GERMANY.

U. S. Uses Dictatorship to Tighten Embargo on Neutrals.

All the huge weight of America's control of the world's supplies has been thrown against Germany. And Germany is writhing as the pressure of starvation is added to the menace of the iron ring of arms.

It was directly due to the representations of the United States that Great Britain repudiated her agreements to victual the northern neutrals. With these agreements out of the way, the United States, through its exports control, can and will absolutely stop the leak of fats and other foods into Germany.

It was for the diversion of Argentine supplies from the neutrals bordering on Germany that the Luxburg telegrams were exposed. If Argentine and the other South American countries fail to see in this the course they should follow, the United States has no other means of assuring that Argentina's great crops and the assistance of other South American countries will not reach northern Europe, This will be done through refusal to give South American ships bunker coal and refusal to furnish coal for the industries of South America.

DOCTOR SLAIN, PASTOR DYING.

Lying Shot in Road and no Clew to Explain Dual Tragedy.

Russellville, Ala,, Oct. 4.—The bodies of Dr. Tom Hughes, prominent physician and surgeon, and the Rev. J. T. Terry, pastor of the Methodist Church, both of this city, were found yesterday afternoon about six miles south of here, shot to pieces. When discovered Dr. Hughes was dead, having been shot in the face with a full load from a shotgun. He was also shot in other parts of the body. His entire right hand was shot off as if he had thrown up his hand to ward off the shot from the face.

Mr. Terry was still alive when parties who had hurried to the scene reached him. He had been shot through the lungs twice with a .38-caliber automatic pistol.

When asked if he and Dr. Hughes had quarreled he shook his head negatively, according to the police. When asked if he shot Dr. Hughes, he answered "yes" by nodding his head, and if Hughes had shot him, he answered "yes" again. Doctors say that it will be impossible for him to recover enough to throw any light on the tragedy.

The men had left Russellville only half an hour earlier for Rockwood, seven miles south of here, where they frequentlyy went together on hunting trips and for which purpose they had gone yesterday afternoon. Only one shotgun was carried, that belonging to Terry.

About 4 o'clock Dr. Hughes was seen to get in his car, which was standing in front of his office on Jackson avenue, and drive off, taking Mr. Terry with him. It was generally known that they had planned the trip yesterday afternoon. Two pistols were found, but only one was discharged which was lying on the ground just under the car. The bodies were on different sides of the road, with the car between them, both guns being on the side with Mr. Terry.

Mr. Terry had a wife and several children some of them grown. Hughes leaves a wife and several small children.
